SUMMARY OF INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

meet with representatives of the Meridian Police Department (MPD), including the Chief of Police, along with several sworn and civilian staff As the Independent Auditor, I conducted my initial compliance review on July 17-20, 2016. The on-site visit provided me the opportunity to members representing several of the substantial remedial areas of focus within the Settlement Agreement. The initial on-site compliance review was an opportunity to discuss elements of the Settlement Agreement with senior command staff and to Agreement. Documents reviewed are specific to the areas identified within the Settlement Agreement. A detailed list of materials reviewed bring greater awareness to addressing all elements and achieving full compliance. Our initial meeting also allowed us to agree to be open, collaborative, and transparent with one another in working toward achieving substantial compliance. Prior to my visit, I requested and received several documents for review directly associated with the substantive remedial measures agreed upon within the Settlement can be found in the next section of this report.

curriculum entitled, "Procedures for Handling Juveniles." The curriculum focused mainly of the handling of juveniles in custody of the MPD. It reviewed included arrest reports, juvenile jail logs, juvenile investigative reports, calls for service records, a draft MOU between the Meridian Public Schools District, (MPSD) and random custody orders obtained by MPD personnel (a comprehensive list is included in the next section). "Handling Juveniles," "Guidelines for Status Offenders," and "Procedures for Detaining Juveniles." In addition, I reviewed the 2015 training evel of compliance. This initial assessment is based on the review of several documents which included the three current policies entitled, should be noted that this training was only provided to officers of the Department, no command officials attended. Additional documents During the initial compliance review, I personally and independently reviewed each of the above substantive areas and assigned an initial maintaining records. These interviews not only allowed for the gathering of information, but also made senior staff aware of all requirements provided direct responses to my questions and showed a willingness to share information. All were very responsive during the interviews and Several interviews were also conducted with key leaders and responsible persons for several substantive areas during the on-site compliance Investigations, Juvenile Investigators, Commander Internal Affairs, Shift Commanders, City Attorney, and civilian support staff responsible for and the Department of Justice (DOJ). All interviewees were welcoming, and open regarding their duties, practices, and responsibilities. Each command staff had not seen the Settlement Agreement, nor were they aware of the substantive areas agreed upon by the City of Meridian of the Settlement Agreement and learn the process of documenting and monitoring progress toward achieving compliance. Several of the visit. Interviews included the Chief of Police, Assistant Chief of Police, Commander of Training Division, Commander of Criminal to any requests for follow up documentation.

The MPD has taken some steps toward addressing key areas within the Settlement Agreement, including no longer responding to Meridian schools for the purpose of arresting or transporting juveniles solely at the request of MPSD officials. During my review of calls for service reports, I noted that the MPD no longer routinely responds to Meridian schools. C calls that officers will respond to on school property. However, the only documentation which reflects this change of policy is an amendment to a policy dated August 23, 2012, authored but not signed by a former Chief of Police. The policy amendment states, in part, that MPD shall spanning over the past two years clearly show that the MPD has taken the necessary steps to significantly reduce the number and types of The Meridian Public School District (MPSD) has created its own internal police department within the MPSD. Calls for service records only respond to MPSD for "incidents involving the commission of a felony, physical violence, or weapons." A draft Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) currently exists between the MPD and the Meridian Public School District. The MOU outlines all the substantial areas of the Settlement Agreement. The draft has been circulated to both parties, and the final draft is in the hands of the MPSD. There has been no movement on the MOU for several months. I requested an interview with key partners within the Meridian Public Schools District, including the current MPSD Chief of Police, School Resource Officers, Superintendent of Schools, and Teachers. My request was based on obtaining an update on the draft MOU, and to discuss other key elements of the Settlement Agreement.

interviews with the aforementioned MPSD personnel. During that call, I was advised by the attorney that they would not be cooperating in held a conference call with the Meridian School Board Attorney and DOJ representatives on July 15, 2016, to discuss the scheduling of our review and would not be making any of their employees available for interviews. The MPD has begun to develop an internal policy that addresses several facets contained in the draft MOU. I will continue to reach out to the occurred in their response to handling juveniles within the MPSD, the need for written policies and training in several areas of the Settlement MPSD to solicit their cooperation in conducting my review. Although I believe the majority of members of the MPD recognize changes have Agreement are necessary to institutionalize these changes.

One call involved a juvenile who did not attend the school arrested for the possession of a stolen firearm, and another involved a theft which A review of all calls for service to MPSD properties during the previous 18 months show only a few cases in which MPD took direct action. only required a police report to be taken.

Several juvenile arrest reports and jail logs were reviewed. Reports dating January 2011 thru January 2012 showed a significant number of arrest. No juvenile arrest records after January 2012 showed arrest by Meridian Police for "disciplinary" type offenses. The arrests records reviewed did show, in a majority of the cases, that a parent or guardian was properly contacted. Several of the records also showed that arrest emanating from school locations. However, January 2012 thru March 2014, reports show a significant reduction in school related Miranda rights were given to the juvenile.

There are several areas in which MPD remains non-compliant, and will require significant work in order to come into compliance with the Settlement Agreement. Those areas include:

- Development of written policy that directly indicates what types of incidents involving juveniles on MPSD property require an MPD response, as well as how and when MPD officers should respond.
- Development of training curricula that ensures all officers and officials are familiar with the Settlement Agreement measures that are incorporated into MPD policies. Additional development and training is needed in the areas of:
- De-escalation techniques;
- Conflict Resolution;
- Child and Adolescent Development; and
- Bias Free Policing.
- Updated policies and procedures for the handling of citizen complaints involving MPD responses to, and arrests at MPSD facilities.
- Public access to, and filing process for citizen complaint forms to include a tracking system for complaints arising from school-based
- Specific juvenile data collection pertaining to the number of juveniles referred to MPD by MPSD and the number of arrests arising out of school-based behavior.
- Development and implementation of a community input program.

We will be establishing due dates for We continue to hold bi-weekly conference calls with key members of the Meridian Police Department Team. The calls are utilized to follow completing tasks to ensure timely completion of tasks to come into substantial compliance with Settlement Agreement provisions.

My next on site compliance review visit should take place during the month of November 2016.
